On May 23rd Hudson is ALL LIT UP!

all events free and open to the public

On May 23rd in Hudson, NY, join us for the 5th Annual Hudson Valley Literary Festival: All LIT Up. The daylong festival, produced by The Council of Literary Magazines and Presses, with Fence Books, The Hudson Opera House, and Hudson Wine Merchants, celebrates literature and literary publishing:

11 AM – 4 PM: Bargains! Bargains! Bargains!
Literary Magazine & Small Press Book Fair

Hudson Opera House, 327 Warren Street:

Hundreds of books and magazines published by regional and national independent literary publishers on sale for only $2 an issue and $4 a book, with many publishers there to meet & greet! Take this opportunity to discover hundreds of literary publications you would never see in a single store and take advantage of the bargain prices—sample a bunch and find the ones you love!

5 PM: Joshua Ferris, Nelly Reifler, and Ira Sher:
A Reading & Reception at Hudson Wine Merchants

Hudson Wine Merchants, 341½ Warren Street:

We are thrilled to host three of the hottest young novelists on the scene: Joshua Ferris (Then We Came to the End, National Book Award Finalist), Nelly Reifler, (See Through), and Ira Sher (Singer, Gentlemen of Space). Wine and cheese reception to follow.

For more info please email Jamie Schwartz at jschwartz@clmp.org. For directions to the Hudson Opera House, please visit: <http://www.hudsonoperahouse.org> — or call 518-822-1438. Brought to you by CLMP, the Council of Literary Magazines and Presses (www.clmp.org), serving the community of independent literary publishers since 1967. This event made possible in part through support from the New York State Council on the Arts, a state agency.
